

Bayerische Staatsoper

Bayerische Staatsoper Max-Joseph-Platz 2 D-80539 München

8. Juni 2007

To whom it may concern

David Robert Coleman has worked with me as an assistant-conductor and pianist for several years, notably on my recordings of „Parsifal“ and „Lohengrin“ in the Festspielhaus Baden-Baden.

I can strongly recommend David Robert Coleman as a versatile young conductor to any high-quality orchestra.

I have also been very impressed with his work as a composer and have commissioned him to write for the Montreal Symphony (OSM).

Since the fall of 2006 I have engaged David Robert Coleman to be the associate-conductor and my assistant at the Bayerische Staatsoper in Munich.

Sincerely

Kent Nagano

